DR. SARAH SILCOX, DVM

Dr. Sarah Silcox is a pioneer in the world of veterinary cannabis use. She is one of the founding directors, and current President of the Canadian Association of Veterinary Cannabinoid Medicine. A passionate advocate for the veterinary use of cannabis and cannabinoid medicine, her interest in the potential benefits of medical cannabis for pets reaches back several years.

Topics covered will include:

- What is cannabis?
- Is it legal?
- Why won't my vet prescribe it?
- In what situations might cannabis be helpful?
- Are there studies to support its use?
- CBD or THC?
- Risks and side-effects of cannabis use
- How to read a label and assess a product
- How to talk to your veterinarian about cannabis
